J.L. Wallace Completes Phase III Build Out for Ave Maria School

FORT MYERS, FLA. (March 12, 2012) – J.L. Wallace Inc. has completed the third phase of interior build out for the Rhodora J. Donahue Academy in Ave Maria, FL. The outside shell of the building was built first, and the inside space is being completed in phases.

J.L. Wallace also did the work for Phase I and Phase II. Phase III involved the build out of 5,400 SF of space in the building shell that was being used for the football team. That space now features a music room and a library and media center for the K-12 school.

Ken Furtado served as superintendent for J.L. Wallace on the project with Noel Miranda as project manager assistant. Jason P. Tramonte Architect, Inc. provided design services.

Based in Fort Myers, Fla., J.L. Wallace has provided general contracting, design/build, and construction management services in southwest Florida since 1997. The company specializes in commercial projects, including structures for retail, industrial, institutional and office use. For more information, visit www.jlwallaceinc.com or call (239) 437-1111.
