J.L. Wallace Completes Construction on Bradenton National Guard Armory

FORT MYERS, FL. (May 13, 2013) – J.L. Wallace, Inc. has achieved substantial completion, nearly two months ahead of schedule, in construction of the Bradenton National Guard Armory buildings. The project was competitively bid and built for The State of Florida, Department of Military Affairs (DMA), Construction & Facility Management Office (CFMO).

The project included the renovation and conversion of three facility buildings, including but not limited to: upgrades to ADA compliance, latrine upgrades, improved weapons storage, electrical upgrades and general code compliance, emergency power transfer switches, new high and low voltage systems, improved exterior lighting, interior finishes, floor replacement, new high-efficiency HVAC systems, plumbing and mechanical upgrades, tankless water heaters, kitchen renovation, addition of a fire protection system, and improved landscaping.

Brian Cappucci served as Project Manager with Ken Furtado as Superintendent and Robbyn Spears as Project Manager Assistant. Architectural services were provided by Renker Eich Parks Architects with engineering services provided by BGA, Inc. and Bayside Engineering.

Based in Fort Myers, Fla., J.L. Wallace has provided general contracting, design/build and construction management services in Southwest Florida since 1997.
